Blinken trip takeaway: India, US closer than ever on Afghanistan

SHUBHAUT ROY
New Delhi, July 29

INDIA AND THE US have come closer than ever before on the situation in Afghanistan with both sides agreeing that violence or a power grab will not lead to stability there.

This was one of the key takeaways from visiting US Secretary of State Antony Blinken's meeting with External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, the Indian Express has learnt.

However, against the background of the Government's confrontation with Big Tech, the US side did make a case for India to support the ideals of "international freedoms". But there was a "gentle pushback" from the Indian delegation during the two-hour meeting on Wednesday.

On the issue of human rights and civil liberties, Blinken's statements after the meetings with NSA Ajit Doval and Jaishankar.

The Indian side conveyed that both countries are dealing with historical issues — the US polity with systemic racial tension, and the Indian with the situation in Kashmir. "There are historical wrongs that are being made right", the Indian side told Blinken's delegation, referring to the abrogation of Article 370.

On the light with Big Tech, "The Indian Express has learnt that the Indian side conveyed that the US is also dealing with fake news on social media, and pointed to US President Joe Biden's recent comment that the spread of Covid misinformation is 'killing people'.

Biden was responding to a question from a reporter about the alleged rollout of "platforms like Facebook" in spreading falsehoods about the pandemic and the pandemic.

The Indian side said that both governments are dealing with similar challenges on "Facebook" in spreading falsehoods about the pandemic and the pandemic.

Jaishankar had said: "We don't think that the outcome should be decided by force on the battlefield. We think the peace negotiations should be a negotiation and should lead to peace." However, both countries did not appear to have reached an agreement on Pakistan, at least in public.

While Jaishankar said Afghanistan's independence and sovereignty will only be ensured if it is free from foreign influence, the US Secretary of State said on Pakistan, at least in public.

However, sources pointed to Blinken's comments that "any future government in Afghanistan has to be inclusive and fully representative of the Afghan people." But ultimately, his future government in Afghanistan has to be inclusive and fully representative of the Afghan people.

Delhi also feels that the Biden administration — by putting the Quad grouping of nations at the centre of its Indo-Pacific strategy — has established India's strategic place in the region. From this perspective, Blinken's visit was a key signal to China.

A senior Indian official said, "Blinken did not come here to pick a fight, he made his points, but after listening to us, he understood where we were coming from, and struck the right note outside closed doors."

'Govt looking for prospects about green hydrogen as potential transport fuel'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, July 29

UNION MINISTER NITIN
Gadkar on Thursday said the government is looking for prospects about green hydrogen as a potential transport fuel, and added that whatever concessions it is offering for electric vehicles can be offered to green hydrogen also.

Addressing a conference on Hydrogen and Gas Based Mobility, Gadkar also said that with the large solar, wind, hydro, and waste potential in India, the country can lead the world in green hydrogen production.

"We are also looking for prospects about green hydrogen as a potential transport fuel. Whatever concessions we are offering for electric vehicles, we can offer that concession for green hydrogen also," he said.

The road transport and highways minister stressed that the government is committed for supporting green hydrogen and he will discuss the issue with the finance ministry and the Nitin Jayant Gadkar said green hydrogen could be an ideal power source for energy-intensive industries like refining, steel, cement, fertiliser, mining, and industrial heating.

Stating that green hydrogen (H2) is made by splitting water (H2O) using renewable power, he said, "Over time, green hydrogen as an energy carrier can replace some of our energy imports." Gadkar noted that 70% of green hydrogen production costs come from electricity costs, hence, surplus electricity from renewable energy sources can enhance green hydrogen production economics.
